Gadsden County is a fiscally constrained county and is in one of the state's Rural Areas of Critical Economic Concern. Agriculture is the leading private-sector industry in Gadsden County. The facility is central to economic expansion in the County. The funding that the State provide will directly support the mission of the Gadsden County Extension Service in providing research based, fact based, and innovative educational programs to local citizens. Educational programs in agriculture, Family and Consumer Sciences, and 4-H yield immediate and long lasting results in terms of efficient agriculture, reduced health care costs and quality of life for the citizens and youth of Gadsden County. It is estimated that for every $1 invested in agricultural research and extension there is a return on investment of $10 to the community.
