The summary must list what local, regional or statewide interests or areas are served. It should also document the need for the funds, the community support and expected results when applicable. Be sure to include the type and amount of services as well as the number of the specific target population that will be served (such as number of home health visits to X, # of elderly, # of school aged children to receive mentoring, # of violent crime victims to receive once a week counseling etc.)

Funding for the Parenting with Love and Limits (PLL) evidence based model will be used to support three PLL teams. Two (2) of the teams will be located in the central region and one (1) team will be located in the southern region. PLL will service some of the highest risk families in the state in two ways. First, the Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) will identify youth who are at high risk of being placed in a residential facility. Secondly, PLL intends to serve the reentry from residential population both moderate and high risk youth. PLL is one of the only evidence based models in the country that has a proven track record evidenced by high family engagement, lower recidivism, lower residential placements, and lower re-entry into a residential placement for a second or third time. Additionally, this model works with the entire family, so the siblings in the household will also benefit to address their issues before the youth potentially follows the same path.

Targeted population to be served are youth at risk of being placed in a residential facility and/or youth that are returning from a residential placement. Youth served are ages ten (10) to eighteen (18). This project proposes to serve 99 youth and families. The highest percentage of the budget is going directly to staff positions and materials for families to deliver the model to the youth and parents.
