The Principal Autonomy Pilot Program will provide the principals of participating schools in participating school districts with increased autonomy and authority regarding allocation of resources and staffing. School districts selected for participation in PAPPI are exempt from the K-20 Education Code and State Board of Education rules, with exceptions. Among other exemptions, the class size compliance calculation for participating schools is the school-level average, rather than the individual classroom level. School district participation in PAPPI is voluntary. School districts seeking to participate in PAPPI must submit a principal autonomy proposal to the State Board of Education for approval. Among other things, the proposal must identify three middle or high schools that received at least two school grades of ?D? or ?F? during the previous three school years, describe the areas in which increased autonomy will be granted, and state measurable goals regarding student achievement and operational efficiency. The state board may select up to three school districts for participation in PAPPI. The initial term of the program is three years. The bill grants the principals of participating schools greater authority regarding staffing decisions, allocation of financial resources, and budgeting. Among other things, the principal of a participating school is granted greater authority to hire qualified instructional personnel or refuse placement or transfer of such personnel. Before participation in the program may begin, such principals must complete professional development designed to enable them to implement increased autonomy. Participating school districts must guarantee participating schools at least 90 percent of the funds generated in the Florida Education Finance Program (FEFP) by that school. The current minimum guarantee is 80 percent of such funds. Participating school districts must annually report measures taken to implement the program and results achieved to the state board. The Commissioner of Education must submit a full evaluation of the program's effectiveness to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives upon expiration of the initial three year term.
