Operational Audit of North Springs Improvement District
Unanimously Approved by Joint Legislative Auditing Committee

CORAL SPRINGS, Fla. – Today, the Joint Legislative Auditing Committee unanimously approved a request to direct the Auditor General to perform an operational audit of the North Springs Improvement District (NSID). The audit request was made by Representative Dan Daley (D-Coral Springs), who received several questions and complaints regarding the operation and actions of NSID, including allegations of threats, nepotism, cronyism, unethical practices, and potential illegalities.

The audit will include a review of NSID's financial and operational practices, as well as an examination of any potential conflicts of interest or violations of state laws and regulations. The results of the audit will be used to identify any areas in need of improvement and to ensure that the taxpayers and ratepayers of NSID are receiving the highest level of accountability and transparency.

"Taxpayers deserve the utmost transparency when it comes to how their tax dollars are being used. I am pleased the Joint Legislative Auditing Committee recognized the importance of this audit, as well as the need for greater transparency and accountability at NSID. I am confident the Auditor General will provide an independent and thorough review that will help restore the public's trust in NSID," said Representative Daley.
