Representative Anna V. Eskamani to Host Florida Tax Panel Discussion

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. – State Representative Anna V. Eskamani (D-Orlando) will host and moderate TaxTalk, a Florida tax panel discussion and Q&A event on March 15, 2021 at 11am.

Panelists for TaxTalk include Dr. Esteban Leonardo Santis, a budget and revenue policy analyst with Florida Policy Institute, Erica Williams, vice president for state fiscal policy with Center on Budget and Policy Priorities (CBPP), and Michael Mazerov, senior fellow with CBBP's State Fiscal Project.

Attendees will have the opportunity to hear the panelists talk about the definitions of different tax structures, review the corporate income tax (CIT), discuss the inequities within Florida's tax structure, and explore potential revenue generators.

“Understanding tax policy is crucial to making informed decisions that impact the everyday lives of Floridians,” said Representative Eskamani. “This panel will be centered on inequities within our state's revenue streams, and will also provide lawmakers with tangible policy solutions to positively impact the people of our great state.”

TaxTalk will take place over Zoom videoconference. All are encouraged to attend by visiting bit.ly/TaxTalkPanel.
